Employer branding

Establish company values that are attractive to your target workforce.

 Make the work culture of your business available through the Internet and remember that you want employees who want to work for you, not employees who just want a job.

Monetary rewards

Monetary rewards motivate employees to perform at their best and strive to achieve both company and individual goals. Company owners and managers should make sure that rewards are achievable and that product quality is not sacrificed. These monetary awards come in the form of:

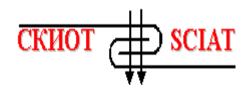

- bonuses;
- stock options;
- anniversary awards;
- salary increases.

Challenges for small T&C businesses

- Small businesses often can not pay as well as large organizations.
- Small businesses sometimes provide little clarity about earning potential because there does not appear to be a need to establish career paths.
- When communities within businesses are tight-knit, feedback can be difficult to give and receive.
- Small businesses often provide limited career growth options and fail to provide a framework within which the employee perceives opportunities for
 - success.
- Small businesses may lack brand recognition.

CHALLENGES

Questions for discussion and tasks

- Define the kind of employees you need in your organisation.
- What are the competencies they need to have?
- Create a recruitment strategy.
- Think about sources for recruiting of your employees?
- What options can you offer for retaining employees?
- Create an employee retention strategy.
- How will you develop your employees?
- What career development can you offer them? Make a career plan sample.
